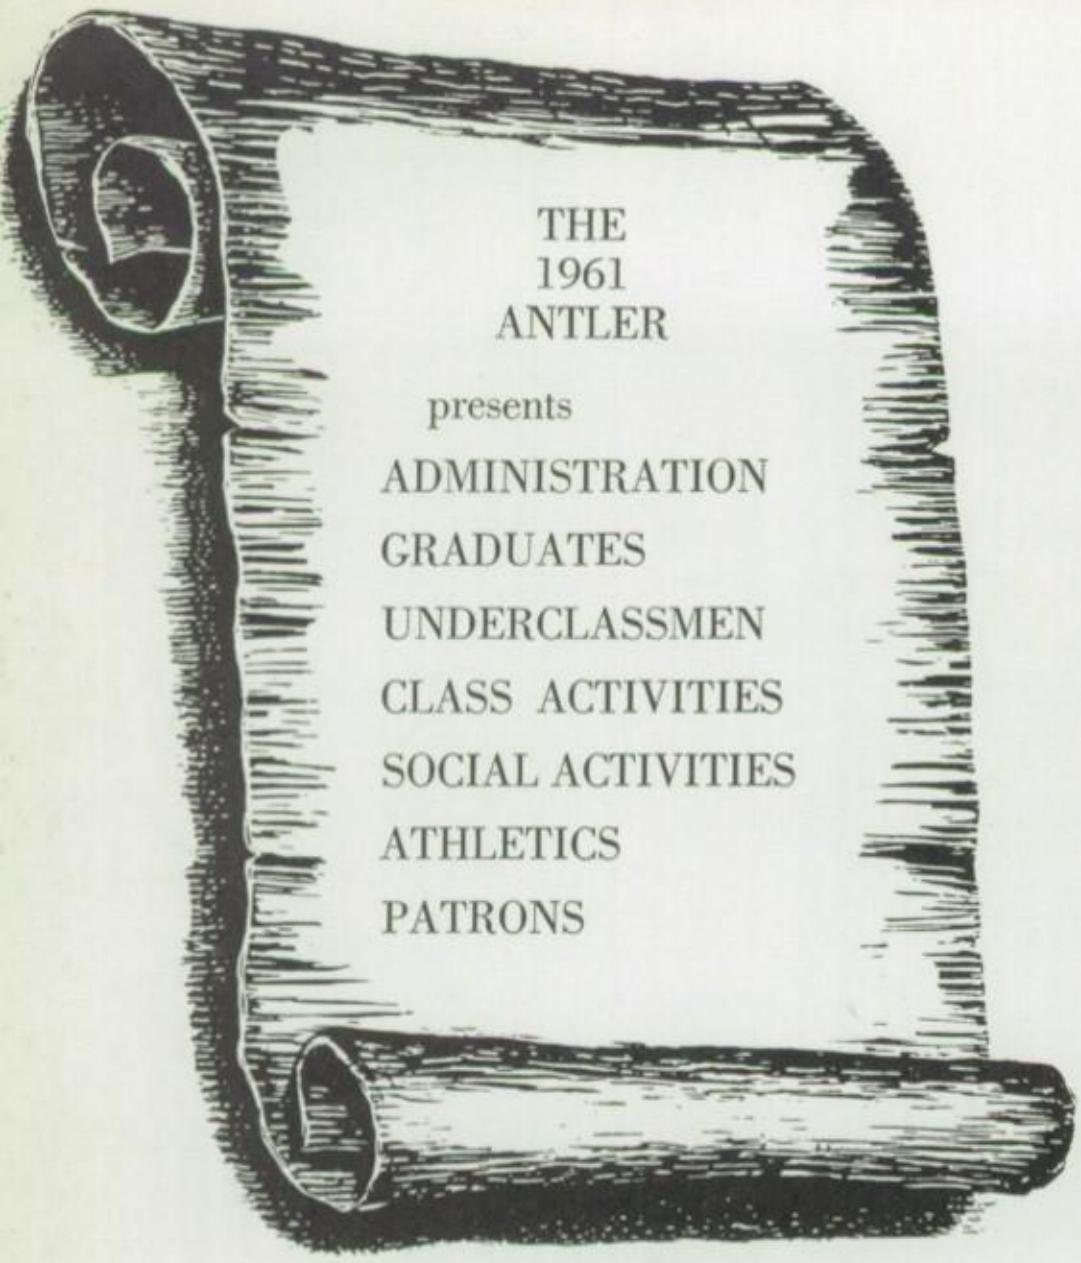
EAST DEER-FRAZER HIGH SCHOOL

Creighton, Pennsylvania



OUR PURPOSE

Another year has folded and drifted away. With the memory of that eventful year still in our minds we prepare to face the future. To help in the preservation of these memories for future reminiscences we have published this 1961 Antler.

Lasting friendships, the development of sturdy character, high ideals, and positive thinking which are achieved within our school are delineated. The youthful shyness and glow of our junior high school years, the eagerness and development of our sophomore year, the independence and progress of our junior year, and the maturity and achievement of our senior year are mirrored here. How quickly those years passed, leaving in their paths memories of the gay, the serious, the unforgettable. The gay and the serious are fresh in our memories. Time alone will prove that 1961 at Edfra has been unforgettable.

The developments, the achievements, and the changes are enclosed in the pages of this book. We hope they will awaken many fond memories of a glorious year and help you relive your experiences at Edfra.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

In the background of every organization are the people who are seldom seen but vitally important. The members of the East Deer-Frazer School Board are makers of policy, managers of system, and mappers of plans. They supervise the school calendar, the employment of teachers, the maintenance of school facilities, and the laws governing the school. Outstanding men of our community, these representatives ably execute their responsibilities and successfully run our school.

Pupils, teachers, and all people of the Edfra community owe a debt of gratitude to these men who try hard to administer smoothly our educational facilities.

HEALTH SERVICE

Today's child needs good health because health largely determines the factors of interest and endurance. Interest and endurance largely determine efficiency. Efficiency during youth, studies, games, and maturity largely determines happiness. Happiness largely determines disposition and attitude.

Although the efforts of the school are to supplement the responsibility of the home and community for the health of children, the members of the board of education, who represent the parents and taxpayers, insist that a comprehensive, child-centered program functions to help you, our students, achieve and maintain a high standard of health.

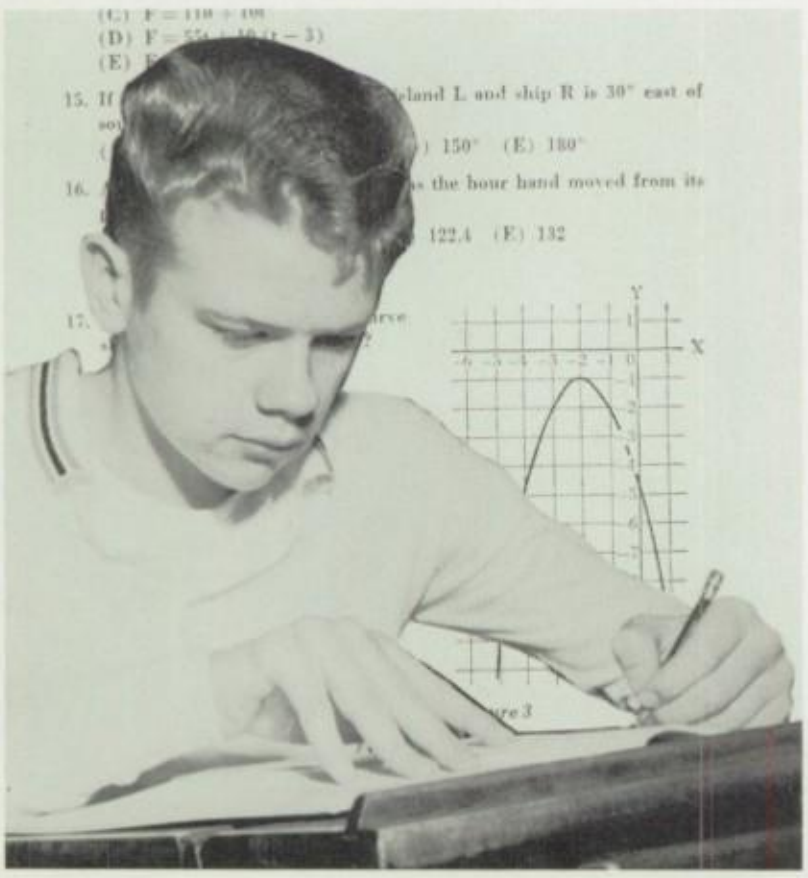
GUIDANCE SERVICE

The aim of guidance is to help you achieve your own highest level of personal, civic, and occupational competence. Success for you includes mental, physical, vocational, and aesthetic development, as well as those inner satisfactions which come from a well-adjusted life.

Guidance activities here in Edfra are based upon the recognition of individual differences, the basic concepts of human growth and development, the diversity of present-day educational opportunities, the complexity of modern occupational life, the importance of human relations, the right of the individual to make his own choices, and the realization that the adjustment of an individual to his life situations is an ever changing process.



Tests help students discover their interests and aptitudes.

Learning why people like or dislike jobs.

On May 11, Dr. Charles Boehm, Pennsylvania's Superintendent of Public Instruction, visited Edfra to review our Guidance Program. He liked it!

PHYSICS, the science dealing with stress, weight and density, and their like, teaches students that the automobile, the airplane, and the Univac and the atomic power station are the works of man's hand and brain.

Since highway safety is one of our major problems, DRIVER EDUCATION tries to develop attitudes, appreciations, understandings, and knowledges essential to safe, sane, cooperative, responsible use of streets and highways.

GEOGRAPHY trains the student to observe and understand his natural environment so that its pleasures are enhanced and made part of the American way of life.

BIOLOGY enables the student to understand and appreciate the world in which he lives because he can see the results of the application of scientific principles that he has studied in the classroom.

ENGLISH helps to enrich life for the individual by developing personal satisfaction in reading, creative expression, and dramatization. It is of particular importance to each student because of its intimate connection with all other subjects.

CHEMISTRY touches and releases the imagination of each student as he learns of the atom and its almost unbelievable powers, as he learns of the accomplishments attained by this science, as he looks about him and decides, "This is good!"

The sole concern of SOCIAL SCIENCE is man's behavior—the most complex of all phenomena—it teaches the student knowledge, wisdom, and insight so that he may understand himself as well as others.

The curriculum in BUSINESS EDUCATION is concerned with making each student occupationally competent to the point where he can be of service to the employing public.

GENERAL SCIENCE gives the student and opportunity to look objectively at this present-day world so that he realizes the necessity for developing his creative and constructive abilities to their fullest extent.

THE FINE ARTS DEPARTMENT is not thought of or dealt with in any classic or orthodox sense, but as serving to arouse in the individual some desire or need for creative experience, and as an opportunity for its cultivation.

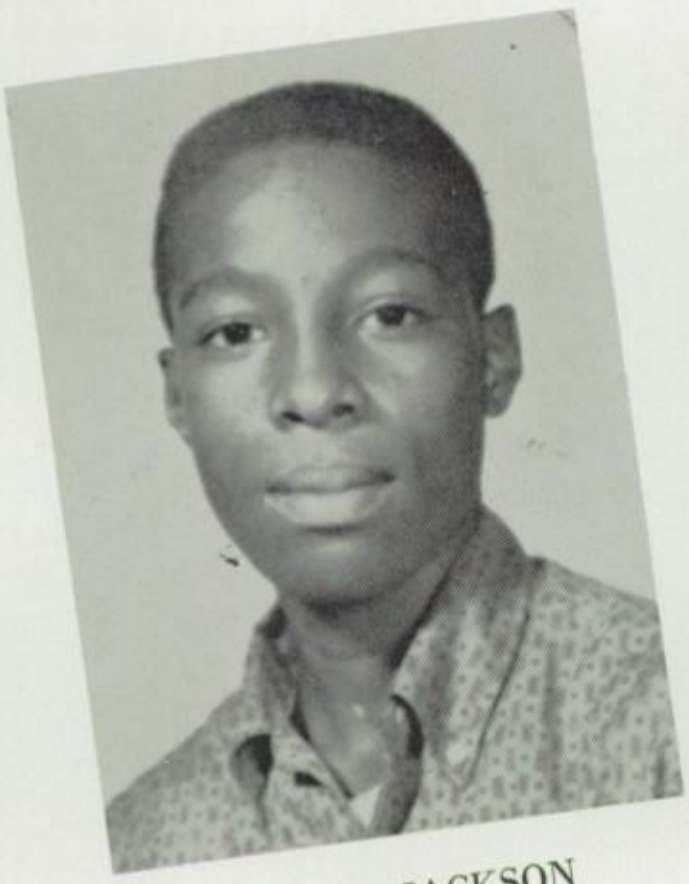
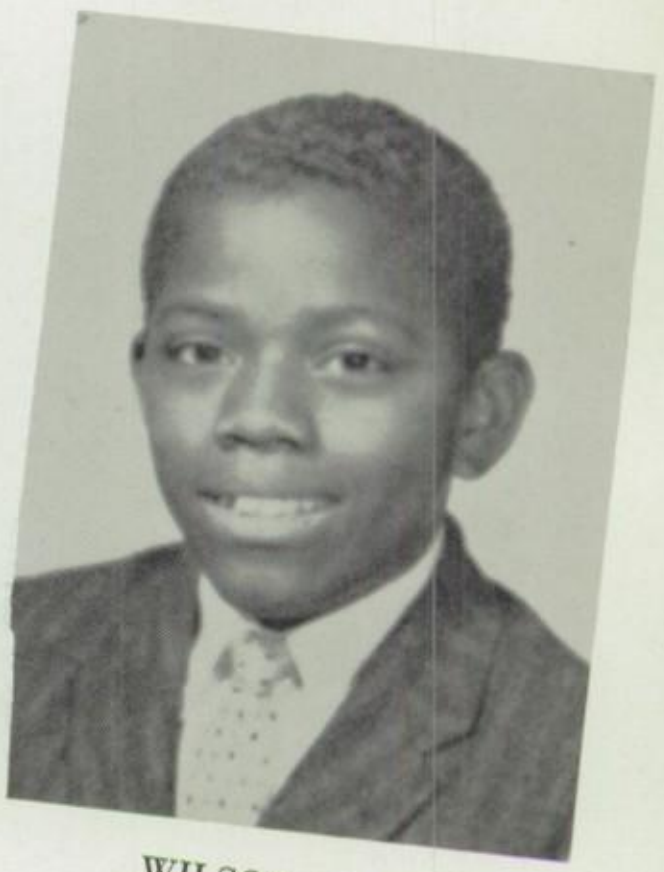
IN MEMORIAM



RONALD JACKSON

THEODORE BETZ



WILSON HILL

THEY ARE JUST AWAY

You cannot say, you must not say
That they are dead. They are just away!
With a cheery smile and a wave of the hand
They have wandered into an unknown land
And left us dreaming how very fair
It needs must be, since they linger there;
So think of them faring on, as dear
In the love of There as the love of Here,
Think of them as the same, and say
They, Wilson Hill, Ronald Jackson, Theodore
Betz, are not dead, they are just away.

HOMEMAKING education is concerned with the home and personal living . . . the development of individual and family interests . . . the fostering of social, civic, and vocational relationships.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS develop the students' manipulative skills and technical knowledge through the study and use of tools, materials, machines and processes which man has adapted to fulfill his needs.

LIBRARY SCIENCE instills in students the love of reading by directing their leisure reading, and teaches the use of library resources in order to obtain reliable, effective information whenever necessary.

LATIN, by its emphasis on the constant processes of analysis and synthesis, teaches clarity and precision of thought, clearness of expression in English, and the ability to distinguish the thought and form of expression.

MATHEMATICS, a universally precise science of symbols, numbers, and quantities, has a limitless applicability to all life, situations, as well as being essential to interpreting and solving problems in applied science.

MUSIC through its curriculum, contributes to the development of appreciation, knowledge, and skills in all pupils, and provides various opportunities to develop talents in group activities.

Mr. Davis, through the FINE ARTS program, encourages the students to develop their talents. As a result, they create many beautiful art objects for their homes.

GUIDANCE SERVICE, through its testing program, helps the student to discover latent talents so that he will be better able to select wisely the educational and occupational fields to which he is best suited.

Since HOMEMAKING is concerned with the home and personal living, it fosters the development of individual and family interests. Thus encouraged, the students are proud to bring in new ideas and suggestions that add beauty and utility to family living.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION teaches coordination, sportsmanship, and better use of leisure time through recreational games and helps students develop strong, healthy bodies through knowledge of physiology and hygiene.
